80	I would love to see the abandoned tires in the back of the restrooms "recycled" into a play area. There are giant playground items that can be left outside, which kids could put together in unique ways, possibly along with the tires. Magic House in St. Iouis uses these gigantic blue toys in their play area. Im not sure how the tires would fit in with that particular idea, but it is a resource which is junk right now. Use it! Multiple playgrounds across the world are using tires in many ways. Some firmly planted in place, others could be filled in and moved in a specific area. Why cant we use "junk" for good?!	8/8/2019 10:45 PM
