II. B. OTHER POSITION CHARACTERISTICS:

1. Accuracy Required in Work:

This position is required to obtain and maintain an ongoing working knowledge of the legal and philosophical basis for public health, social services and welfare programs. Included here is the ability to interpret, implement and comply with federal and state statutes and policies and Administrative Rules that relate to the work required by the Department of Health and Human Services and Social Services Commission on the county level. This also includes ensuring that staff receives all training required by law, including training on new policies and procedures. The accuracy of the work further requires monitoring and oversight of staff who are delegated the authority to act as the Director's representative in specific tasks and areas of expertise.

2. Consequence of Error:

Errors could result in a person's death or contribute to irreparable harm of a person. In turn this could seriously impact the agency and county with regard to misappropriation of public funds, waste of funds, and/or reduction in funding, staff, programs, and services. Errors made in the public assistance of programs could result in incorrect benefits or denial of benefits for eligible citizens. The agency would also be responsible for errors which could mean increased monitoring and audits, corrective action and/or charge-backs to the county.

3. Instructions Provided to Employee:

Ongoing instructions will be provided through scheduled meetings and when situations arise by the consolidated Health & Human Services Board, Board of County Commissioners and County Manager.
